Student Admissions, Outcomes, and Other Data

The PhD program in Health Psychology and Clinical Science (HPCS) at the City University of New York (CUNY) is accredited, on contingency, by the American Psychological Association (APA). For further information about APA accreditation or specific information about the accreditation status of our doctoral program, please contact:

Jacqueline Remondet Wall, PhD Director, Office of Program Consultation and Accreditation American Psychological Association 750 First Street, NE Washington, DC 20002-4242 202-336-5979, <http://www.apa.org/ed/accreditation>

The Committee on Accreditation at APA requires that accredited programs provide the following data to the public:

- Time to completion, from admission to graduation
- Program costs
- Internship success rates
- Attrition rates
- Licensure rates

The HPCS Doctoral Program provides this minimal information necessary to fulfill this requirement.

We also provide additional information consistent with our membership in the Council of University Directors of Clinical Psychology (<http://cudcp.wildapricot.org/>).

Please note that the information and data provided below are based on the past 6 years, beginning with the inception of our program in 2013. Our contingency status is due to expire on April 7, 2024. We must provide APA with an updated self study, including distal data, by May 1, 2022, at which point the program will be reviewed for full accreditation status.

Program Costs

Description	2019-2020 1 st -year Cohort Cost
Tuition for full-time students (in-state)	$4,820
Tuition for full-time students (out-of-state)	$935 per credit
Tuition per credit hour for part-time students ( if applicable enter amount; if not applicable enter "NA" )	N/A
University/institution fees or costs	$182.20
Additional estimated fees or costs to students (e.g. books, travel, etc.)	$2,416

All students receive a comprehensive support package that includes full tuition remission, a fellowship stipend, and health insurance eligibility for five full years. Students are required to contribute a nominal fee towards the health insurance policy. Most funding packages require students to work as teaching or research assistants as a condition of their stipends. Although students in HPCS do not pay tuition, tuition is calculated via an in-state and out-of-state residence tuition structure. For this reason, students are required to establish New York state residency by their second year or are required to assume responsibility for any tuition differential for out-of-state tuition. There is an application process by which an out-of-state resident can apply for reclassification as an in-state student. Details on that process are available at the Graduate Center's tuition rates page.

The Graduate Center allows for a maximum of 30 credits that have been taken prior to admission to a doctoral program to be transferred. These may be applied toward the Ph.D. degree provided the courses were completed with a grade of B or higher within an appropriate period preceding the time of application and are equivalent to comparable courses offered at the Graduate Center. An evaluation of previously earned credits must be made before the end of the student's first year in residence by the HPCS Curriculum Committee. See more at: <http://www.gc.cuny.edu/About-the-GC/Governance-Policies,-Procedures/Detail?id=4342#sthash.d0FAb7pG.dpuf>. Students may not transfer more than 12 credits toward HPCS requirements. If a student has entered the program with a Master's degree in Psychology, a completed thesis may be accepted as fulfilling the first doctoral examination requirement if it is deemed appropriate to the level of scholarship of first doctoral exams within the HPCS program.

Licensure

The table below presents our licensure rates.

Outcome	2013-2019
The total number of program graduates (doctoral degrees conferred on transcript) between 2 and 10 years ago	0
The number of these graduates (between 2 and 10 years ago) who became licensed psychologists in the past 10 years	0
Licensure percentage	0%

Our first cohort of students is completing the predoctoral internship this year. Therefore, we do not yet have licensed graduates. Distal data on rates of licensure among our program graduates will be available in May 2022.
